

MADISON URGED TO JOIN HIGHWAY

Boyle, Garrard and Green County Delegates Here Monday, Talking Good Roads.

Urging that Madison county do its part to complete the routing of a Federal Highway, from Munfordville, Hart county, on through seven counties, including Boyle and Garrard, delegations from Green, Boyle and Garrard came to Richmond Friday. A lengthy session was held at the court house shortly after noon, attended by a number of members of the Madison Fiscal Court and prominent citizens.

Speakers for the visitors told of the pledging that both Boyle and Garrard will do their part toward building a permanent highway through their counties. All urged that Madison be not backward in the good work.

State Road Commissioner Joe S. Boggs was over from Frankfort for the meeting and was called upon to preside. County Judge W. K. Price called the meeting to order and told of its purpose. Commissioner Boggs called upon State Senator Jay Harlan, of Danville, to state the purpose of the meeting. He did so, explaining clearly the advantage from a permanent roadway through the seven counties. All have joined in the work and it is now up to Madison. The federal laws governing allotment of federal road funds, provides that federal aid for a highway can only be granted if the highway begins at an established federal project and ends at one. The proposed highway begins on the western branch of the Dixie Highway at Munfordville, and is planned to end with the Dixie Highway here both federal highways.

County Judge Forest Stapp, of Garrard county, followed Senator Harlan. He said that the people of Garrard were willing to do their share, and perhaps would have to vote a bond issue to do so.

A Mr. Lewis, who had come all the way from Green county, urged the people of Madison to help in the work of building this great highway which means so much to the people of the back counties, deprived now of both railroads and good roads of any sort. He gave a lengthy description of his country and the trade and enterprise that will be released by such a highway.

Hon. Joe E. Robinson, of Lancaster, said that he had talked to leading men from all over his county, and all are heartily in favor of the highway. He said that Garrard will have over 18 miles to build across its longest side, yet Garrard will be found ready when the call comes for her.

G. B. Swinebroad, the famous real estate salesman, of Garrard, emphasized the same purpose on the part of the people of Garrard. He said that he often travels 1,500 miles a month in his business, and has found what good roads mean to a community. He made a strong and effective plea for the people of Madison to join with their friends and neighbors of Boyle and Garrard in completing the highway.

Squire J. A. Cheek, of Boyle, told of his work in pushing the road way and what it means to the communities through which it will pass. He said that it had first been proposed to put Danville on a highway that went through Harrodsburg but that the people of Mercer would not subscribe funds for the road and they feared that all their trade would go to Danville. Mr. Cheek gave an interesting history of the highway project.

Mr. Durham, of Green county, followed, and corroborated many of the things that Mr. Lewis had said.

Mr. R. E. Turley, of Richmond, was called upon, and was giving a vivid description of the road problems and conditions of Madison at the time, the Daily Register's report closed.

It developed that it is proposed to build the highway out of rock asphalt, and in this way make a permanent road that will stand for many years and not need constant expenditure of money upon it to keep it in repair.

State Commissioner Boggs in his opening remarks said that he had been in Richmond not long ago to urge Madison to accept part of the federal road funds. And he said this would probably be his last visit upon such a mission, inasmuch as the last available cent of the fund would soon be spoken for unless Madison acted quickly.

Among those in the delegation here from Boyle county were: Senator Jay W. Harlan, Squire J. A. Cheek, Squire J. A. Davis, J. C. Alcock, editor of the Danville Daily Messenger, H. L. Nichols, W. S. Glore, Banks Hudson, and George A. McRoberts.

From Garrard were J. E. Robinson, Robert Elkin, John Farra, Dr. J. A. Amons, county road engineer, Judge Forest Stapp, Squire Ray, Squire Clark, and from Paint Lick, Rice Woods.

"SALE KING" HERE WITH ROAD BOOSTERS

In the delegation here from Garrard county Monday boosting the Federal Highway, was Col. G. B. Swinebroad, who is known all over Kentucky as the "Sale King of the Blue Grass." Col. Swinebroad sold almost two million dollars worth of farm lands and other real estate during the past year. His motto is that he "always sells," which has made his services greatly in demand. He has his own system, his own list of farm buyers, and he "gets the goods" which is what people demand this day and time. Col. Swinebroad believes that the outlook for the coming year is exceptionally bright. He is already making contracts for sales all during the season. His services are so greatly in demand that many who desire him to handle their sales have engaged him several months in advance.

MAN LOSES HOPE

"For ten years I suffered severely from stomach trouble. The doctors said I had cancer of the stomach and nothing would do but an operation. I took my last round of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy 2 1-2 years ago. Since then I sleep well, eat what I want and feel fine." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays inflammation which causes practical all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. CHRISTMAS CHEER WARMED MANY HEARTS

Associated Charities, With Dr. Telford At Helm, Did Noble Work This Year

Through the good work of the Associated Charities of which Dr. R. L. Telford is president and guiding spirit, Christmas cheer was provided for many home in Richmond Thursday, which otherwise would have been desolate.

Kind-hearted women with visions in their hearts of little eager, waiting faces, carefully packed the Christmas baskets.

In each basket was a 12 pound sack of flour, a five pound sack of meal, rice, coffee, sugar, oat meal, potatoes, meat, a can of corn or peas, or peaches and a little package of candy with few apples and oranges and some toys.

As the big delivery wagon would stop in front of a house where there were children, a scamp of little feet would be heard across the floor, a bevy of little faces would be pressed against the window pane and then there would be a rush out of the door to help carry in the big basket Santa was bringing. Then as the wagon moved on slowly down the street, little boys who had suddenly appeared as if by magic, from everywhere and nowhere, would follow it to see if it would stop at their house. One little fellow whose house the wagon had passed, ran after it shouting in a piping little voice, "Mister! Oh, Mister! you have missed one." Another little tow-headed lad ran along by the wagon calling out, "Mister, what does them cost?"

In addition to the 45 baskets assigned and prepared for names listed, Santa Claus carried five extra baskets that were unassigned—and they were needed. Two little girls stood in their door way and watched wistfully a basket that was being carried into the house of a near neighbor. "What is your name?" It was not on the list. No basket in the wagon with that name on it. But when it was learned from the neighbor next door that their mother had recently died, and that the father who worked on the railroad, had to be away from them all day, and that they had no hopes of any Christmas cheer, one of those unassigned baskets found its home, and the faces of the two little girls were radiated as the sun when it breaks through a cloud.

Another unassigned basket went to a home not on the list, but concerning which word had just been brought that there was great need. In answer to the knock a man appeared at the door who was haggard and ill, and huddled about smoldering blaze was a woman and four small clad little children, shivering with cold. There was no Christmas cheer and no promise of any in that desolate room. Even the bare necessities of life were lacking.

Could those who contributed to this year's Christmas cheer, have seen the transformation wrought in that home by the advent of that Xmas basket, they would have felt abundantly repaid.

Never were human faces so suddenly lighted up, or little children made so deliciously happy.

Through the generous gifts of a few kind friends, who have remembered every year the inmates of county farm, Christmas cheer was generously provided for them also, and the packages were carried out to them on Xmas day. A generous Christmas dinner had just been served them and they had been thoughtfully and kindly remembered by Mr. Roberts and his good wife, but to know that they were thought of and kindly remembered by friends outside of the little world in which their lives are set warmed the heart and made the day brighter.

They did not catch the man who was the owner and operator but they demolished the still and a lot of beer. The still seemed to be of about 30 gallon a day capacity.

English Gets Ships

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Dec. 26.—By direction of President Wilson, former German passenger carrying ships of the Imperator group, now in New York harbor, are to be delivered to Great Britain, the Shipping Board announced today. The Imperator, the second largest ship afloat, already has been delivered. Six others will be turned over. The President's recommendation is based on a report of the State Department which found the United States had no right to retain the vessels beyond the period of their service in bringing back American troops. The inter-allied commission arranged to get the vessels out of German harbors following the armistice and allocated them to the United States. The President's order ends the controversy over title to the vessels.

'STILL DESTROYED IN MADISON COUNTY

Deputy Sheriff Johnson Raids Illicit Plant Near Big Hill—'Shiners' Busy In Clay

Not all that "white stuff" that has been sifting down from the Big Hill way was made over in Rockcastle county by Thad Drew and Gaither Philbeck, whose moonshine stills Deputy Internal Revenue Collector Hugh Samuels and Jackson county officials put out of business the other day. Deputy Sheriff W. A. Johnson and Will Davis, of Berea, discovered a still in Madison county, within three miles of Big Hill, a few days ago. They did not catch the man who was the owner and operator but they demolished the still and a lot of beer. The still seemed to be of about 30 gallon a day capacity.

U. S. officials say that they are pretty sure that there are a couple more moonshine stills in Madison county. One is believed to be located near Big Hill, and the other near Silver Creek. An officer told the Daily Register that he has reasons to believe that back in the cedars, not far from Silver Creek an illicit still is in operation. Some day Uncle Sam may send a bunch up that way to investigate.

The prize moonshine story comes from Manchester, Clay county, however, where a couple of prominent Richmond men went on business, legal and otherwise the other day. One said that he went to the courthouse and hadn't been inside the building half an hour before three or four men had approached him and asked him if he was the stranger who was "wanting to buy a mule." It was some time before the Richmond man "tumbled" to the kind of "mule" that the Clay county vendor wanted to sell him. He finally did secure a little and he says that he was assured that none finer is made anywhere.

Anyway he says the brand that is made in Clay hasn't the coal oil or gasoline fragrance that much of the ordinary moonshine whiskey is said to report. Instead, the gentleman says that it was almost as good as any real "licker" he ever sampled, and that you could almost taste the corn in it. He said that real "first class moonshine" is being sold in Clay county at $4 and $5 a quart, which is considerably under the market as reported by prominent and plutocratic bootleggers and shiners around these parts, who are said to be retailing it anywhere from $10 to $20 a quart.

POPULAR WOODFORD GIRL DIES SUDDENLY

Miss Mary Rout Was To Have Been a Bridesmaid at Kellogg-McCown Wedding

Friends here were deeply grieved and shocked Christmas Day when the message came from Versailles that Miss Mary Rout had died suddenly of a heart attack while seated at the breakfast table. Miss Rout was a classmate and very warm friend of Miss Marie Louise Kellogg, and frequently visited her here. She had expected to be one of the bridesmaids at the Kellogg-McCown wedding in January. She was 21 years of age and her friends here who had no intimation of her illness, were greatly depressed over the sad news.

Miss Keeny is a former professor of Spanish at Bucknell University.

TWO MORE HOMES CHANGE HANDS

Two more Richmond homes changed hands early this week and late last week. Judge Stephen D. Parrish, sold his brick residence on Fourth Street to F. J. Barnes, for a price said to be around $5,000. Mr. Barnes is a well known farmer on the Barnes Mill pike and it is understood that he may come to Richmond to make his home. The deal was made through Real Estate Agent H. C. James.

The home of Mr. Henry Pickels on Third street was sold through L. P. Evans' Real Estate Agency, to Mr. J. Wesley McKinney, for a price understood to have been $3,500. This is known as the old Pickels home, and is a brick dwelling. It has been occupied by Joe Bender and family. Possession will be given January 1st.

MRS. JOHN BUTLER'S HOME DESTROYED

The home of Mrs. John Butler, of the Waco section, was entirely destroyed by fire Tuesday morning. The flames are supposed to have been caused by a defective flue, the roof being almost ready to fall in before the fire was discovered.

Quite a good deal of the furniture on the lower floor was saved. Mrs. Butler's loss on the home was estimated at $500 with only $1,000 insurance on it and $500 on the furniture. She probably had $1,000 worth of tobacco ready for market which was also destroyed. This was a splendidly built home and the loss falls very heavily on Mrs. Butler.

It's always wise to have a heavy insurance policy written by L. P. Evans, the insurance man of Richmond, on your home and furniture. Then you're safe no matter what happens.

CONVALESCENTS BUILD UP ON PEPTO-MANGAN

Increases The Supply Of Rich Red Blood—Restores Strength And Vigor

Physicians Recommend It

Sold in Liquid and Tablet Form—The Name "Gude's" The Guide To Genuine Pepto-Mangan

A serious illness such as influenza or other infectious disease always leaves the body with low vitality, lack of strength, and impoverished blood.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan aids convalescents to a quick recovery, for it creates a generous supply of rich, red blood and restores the body to its normal, healthy condition.

That's why physicians recommend Pepto-Mangan, for they know that it imparts to the blood the material so sorely needed by weak run-down systems.

Pale, sallow, thin, easily-exhausted men and women find that Pepto-Mangan builds them up wonderfully. A new supply of rich, red blood is created, which in turn imparts the glow of health to the cheeks, increases the appetite, the eyes sparkle, the entire system takes a new lease on life.

Pepto-Mangan is obtainable in liquid or tablet form, whichever proves most convenient. Both forms possess identical medicinal qualities.

There is but one genuine Pepto-Mangan and that is "Gude's." Ask your druggist for "Gude's" and look for the name "Gude's" on the package. If it is not there it is not Pepto-Mangan. Adv.

It soon relieved me of my stomach trouble and built me up in health and strength. 'Golden Medical Discovery' did wonders for me and I am glad to give it a recommendation."—MRS. MARIA E. COX, 632 Kentucky Ave.

There is but one way to have good health, and that is to put and keep your stomach in good order. This is easy to do if you take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is a wonderful tonic and blood purifier, and is so safe to take, for it is made of roots and herbs. Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y., stands behind this standard medicine, and it is good to know that so distinguished a physician is proud to have his name identified with it.

JIMMIE HODGES SAID TO BE REAL COMEDIAN

One of the biggest and most costly organizations in musical comedy is Jimmie Hodges' new 1919 version of his success "Pretty Baby," which comes to the Opera House for one night Wednesday, December 31. To the regular patrons of this form of amusement this exceptional show promises to be a refreshing treat out of the ordinary. Screaming farce, titillating musical travesty, exuberant extravagance, and scores of terpsichorean revelries upon a really high grade scale.

It is different from the usual run of musical comedies as can be indeed there is so much show, so large a company, so many specialties, that it seems incredible that it all can be so nicely dovetailed together into a composite performance that speeds along at headline pace. George Twyman, Eva Lappin, Johnnie O'Neil, whose personalities have endeared them to a vast clientele of the musical comedy state, heads the big company. Jimmie Hodges is said to be a comedian in a class by himself. His brilliant style of comedy has been copied by many imitators, but few can claim to be his equal. A recent criticism in the Philadelphia Ledger said that he was a Frank Timney, Lew Fields, Bert Williams, and several well known artists rolled into one. Jimmie Hodges also claims he has the handsomest and best trained chorus in musical comedy.

Julia Faye's New Role

Julia Faye, who will be remembered by many as the vampire in "Don't Change Your Husband," has a similar role in Tomas H. Ince's latest photoplay, "Stepping Out" which stars Enid Bennett. This Paramount picture that comes to the local theatres Saturday tells the story of a middle class salaried clerk who becomes dissatisfied with his wife and home because of the interest of a pretty stenographer arouses in him. Miss Faye plays the part of the stenographer, and Niles Welch plays the husband.

"Told In The Hills"

Seldom has a cast of such uniform excellence been assembled as that which supports Robert Warwick in his latest picture, "Told in the Hills," to be shown at the local theatres Monday. Mr. Warwick's leading woman is Ann Little, famous as the heroine of many of the William S. Hart pictures. Wanda Hawley, who has supported several stars, including Wallace Reid and Eileen Percy, leading woman for Douglas Fairbanks, are cast in important roles.

"Told in the Hills" is a picturization of the book of the same name of Sarah Ellis Ryan, which has been a "best seller" for 30 years. It is a powerful story of the great outdoors, centering around the sacrifice of Jack Stuart, played by Mr. Warwick, who marries the girl his younger brother wronged.

HEARD ABOUT TOWN

John Helton, 104 years old, who cultivated crops of tobacco and corn this year, died after a short illness in Montgomery county.

Miss Florence Dick and brother, Samuel of North Middletown, are guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Arnold on Lancaster avenue.

The Winchester Sun says: "Mr. Lewis Rayburn, of Hazard, spent Wednesday night at the home of his aunt, Mrs. W. B. Scrivner, en route to Richmond for a visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rayburn."

Charles I. Dawson, Attorney General; W. T. Fowler, Hopkinsville, first assistant; Thomas B. Gregory, second assistant, and Charles Logan, of Pineville, will be the state's legal department January 5th, according to announcement at Frankfort. Mr. Dawson has not yet appointed his law clerk.

Lutes & Co., Lexington, were awarded a contract for the construction of seven miles of road from Shakertown to Harrodsburg, which will cost $88,000. The state and federal government pay about 60 per cent.

An appropriation of $300,000 annually for at least five years for construction and equipment in addition to a general appropriation of $350,000 annually, is asked in the biennial legislative report of President Frank L. McVey, of the University of Kentucky, to the Legislature and the Governor.

Mrs. Walker, of Paint Lick was a guest of friends here, yesterday, and she was accompanied home by Miss Walker who attends K. C. W.—Danville Messenger.

Card of Thanks

We desire to use these columns to express our appreciation and grateful thanks for every expression of sympathy in the tragic death of our friend, Clayton Reynolds. Especially do we thank Dr. Gibson and the nurse, Dr. McDougle, and the singers who were a great comfort.—Miss Carolina Broadus.

Doan's Kidney Pills relieved the backache and put my kidneys in good condition. 1/3 Less Coal 1/2 More Heat

You can save from a third to a half of your fuel and have a much warmer home than ever before if you will install a CALORIC.

The CALORIC is the remarkable furnace that heats without pipes, through only one register. It circulates heat by Nature's own method, forcing warm air up into the entire house and drawing cool air down into the furnace to be reheated and purified.

The CALORIC heats practically all types of homes, bungalow or three-story house, up to eighteen rooms. It keeps kitchens and back bedrooms just as comfortable and warm as the rest of the house. Also heats churches, factories, stores and other business buildings. More than 50,000 already installed.

The CALORIC can be installed in new or old houses—no cutting of walls for pipes and no interference with present system of heating. It burns coal, coke, gas, wood or lignite, and saves from one-third to one-half the fuel.
